J. V. Holt Elected Reeve With A Majority of Thirty-One Votes

Seventy Per Cent of Voters Exercised Franchise In The Election Held On Monday

James Vernon Holt, a member of this year's Council, was elected as Reeve for this Village for 1957, over Harry Philp, also a former Councillor, in Monday's municipal election. His majority was thirty-one.

All other municipal officers were filled by acclamation on the night of Nominations.

In spite of the fact that there was only an election for the office of Reeve, over seventy per cent of the eligible voters exercised their franchise. The vote in the forenoon was comparatively light, but with both candidates and their workers striving for victory, the voters turned out in the afternoon in goodly numbers to swell the total vote.

The Vote

In Poll No. 1, which comprises the eastern part of the Village, Holt took a 38-vote lead, while Philp was the victor in Poll No. 2, the western part of the Village, by seven votes.

The total vote was as follows:

	Holt	Philp
Poll No. 1	175	137
Poll No. 2	117	124

The 1957 Council will be J. V. Holt, Reeve; C. A. Wells, K. Ray, James Wright and W. L. Pollock, Councillors.

Citizens are urged to patronize the Rotary Bingo, the proceeds of which will augment the fund devoted to aiding crippled children in Stirling and district and other benevolent work.

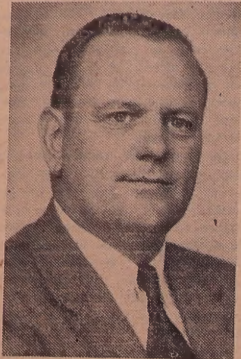

"Music Appreciation" Subject of Talk By Mrs. W. Wilkins At I.O.D.E.

The November meeting of the Hon. J. R. Cooke Chapter of the I.O.D.E. was held at the home of Mrs. R. Cooke with the Regent presiding. The meeting opened with the Prayer of the Order and the flag was brought forward.

Minutes and correspondence were read by the Secretary, Mrs. D. Francis and the Treasurer, Miss R. Spry, gave her report.

The Educational Secretary, Mrs. Don McIntosh, stated that she and the Regent, Mrs. Potter, had visited Joyce Tyrer's family. It was also reported that six members, Mrs. D. McIntosh, Miss R. Spry, Mrs. C. Potter, Mrs. E. Luery, Mrs. D. Francis and Mrs. R. Burgess, had driven up to see the Chapter's adopted school at Minden. The teacher, Mrs. Lidster, informed them that conditions in the district were much improved and that assistance might be no longer necessary after the Spring of 1957. The members felt that the Chapter should still send the box of Christmas treats but not the library refill.

Mrs. A. Fraser, the Services at Home and Abroad Convenor, gave her report, and asked that each member make a stuffed toy to be shipped early in December. The date of the December meeting, to be held at Mrs.

Speaker At St. John's Men's Club

(By Rev. H. C. Secker)

Men's Club
Hear Mr. Hay-Ellis

Following the evening service on Sunday the Men's Club met in the Hall for an informal meeting, to hear an address by Mr. Hay-Ellis, on the English Educational System. Mr. Hay-Ellis, who was formerly a teacher at a well-known school in Wembley, England, gave a thorough picture of the school system in England as compared to that of Canada, showing many differences as well as many similarities. This was an excellent talk, couched in the best of English grammer and graciously presented to an interested audience. Many points were discussed and debated.

Second Sunday In Advent

The second Sunday in Advent, December 9th, is Bible Sunday. As Stirling has not had a canvas for the Bible Society, we are asked to contribute as a congregation to this most valuable work of supplying Bibles to the whole world. At the recent meetings in Kingston of the Executive of General Synod it was agreed that there should be an effort made to increase the knowledge among Anglicans generally of the work which the Bible Society is doing throughout the world, and especially for Anglican Missions, and to bring about a larger measure of support for the Society's work.

During Advent we shall have a weekly celebration of the Holy Eucharist in the chapel every Thursday at 9.15 a.m.; also at 8.15 p.m. after choir practice. There will be a short devotional period.

Hungarian Relief

The Primate's Advent Appeal for Hungarian Relief is now launched and special envelopes are at hand for our donations.

25th Anniversary of Ordination to the Priesthood

Next year will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of my Ordination to the Priesthood. During the month of May we shall, I hope, have special guest speakers. Also we will have a week's Mission conducted by the Clergy of Hastings Deanery. I hope that we shall also celebrate the 110th anniversary of the earliest definitely known beginning of Anglican Church life in this vicinity. Please pray for these events and give your loyal support to the celebration of them.

Christmas Concert
The Church School Christmas Concert and Party will be held on December 14th at 7.30 p.m.

At our week-day celebrations we are using the Draft Version of the Revised Prayer Book with the permission of the Bishop.

Bank To Erect Block In Bancroft

Garage Operators Back Dec. 1st License Date

The Ontario government is to be petitioned to issue automobile licenses on December 1st rather than January 1st.

This was decided at a meeting of the Garage Operators Association of Ontario, held recently at Vineland.

The secretary of the association, D. Swift, stated that potential car buyers often refuse to meet the rising costs of care and treatment. Secondly, more and more children each year are coming to the hospital "where no child knocks in vain," from across Ontario and many other sections of Canada.

Face Theft Charges

A Brighton man and a juvenile have been charged by provincial police with a series of break-ins at the resort at Presqu'ile, six miles south of the town.

Ralph Cooney has 60 charges of breaking, entering and theft against him, and the juvenile has eight.

A hotel, a diner, and several cottages were broken into. Articles taken included record players, typewriters, cameras and clothing.

Hospital For Sick Children Needs Your Support

The many supporters of the Hospital for Sick Children once again are being asked to help meet the annual operating loss by supporting its Christmas appeal.

This year, careful management has kept the hospital's deficit at 4.8% of operating costs, or $231,000, J. Grant Glasco, chairman of the Board of Trustees, said in announcing the hospital's annual Christmas appeal for funds.

Two reasons account for the hospital's inevitable annual deficit. First, the revenue from all sources — patients, investments, estates and grants — is not sufficient to meet the rising costs of care and treatment. Secondly, more and more children each year are coming to the hospital "where no child knocks in vain," from across Ontario and many other sections of Canada.

This year, more than 20,000 bed-patients were admitted and some 100,000 treatments provided for out-patients and emergencies, Mr. Glasco said. "This means that, on the average, one child is admitted to the hospital every half hour, twenty-four hours a day. Some 1,300 employees and many volunteer workers are required to give proper care to these children."

Advances in treatment and surgery are constantly being made at the hospital, Mr. Glasco said. In the case of treatment, he referred to the increasing number of chronic disorders — once considered incurable — which are now being treated successfully.

Today, many acute infections which until recently required hospital care, can now be handled in the home or out-patients clinic, making additional hospital beds available for more seriously ill patients, he said.

"One of the most important phases of surgery is the rehabilitation of injured and deformed children," Mr. Glasco said. "It is interesting to note that one out of every four children entering the hospital's operating rooms does so for reconstructive surgery. Advanced work is now being done with hare-lips, club feet and damaged hearts, to name only a few."

Last year the hospital also conducted many major research projects, promising research is now being done on a common but important group of children's diseases, such as sore throats, coughs, cold and croup, and it is hoped that a recent discovery may lead to the prevention of some of these common respiratory diseases.

In the new Metabolic Ward, one of the few of its kind in a children's hospital, research workers are trying to discover causes of coeliac disease, rickets and nutritional disorders, as well as trying to improve methods of treating diabetes, jaundice, kidney disease and a variety of other diseases.

The increased cost and scope of the hospital's varied services together with the greater number of children who come to the hospital each year, is the reason for the operating deficit Mr. Glasco said. Address of the Hospital for Sick Children is 555 University Avenue, Toronto.

Headlights Can Save Your Life. Or Kill You!

Anyone who has gone through the nerve-shaking experience of having his headlights suddenly go out while driving at night knows why those lights are vital to a car's operations. Without them, the vehicle is useless after dark, a menace not only to everyone else on the highway and a potential deathtrap to its occupants.

Properly used, headlights turn night into day for the driver and at the same time let all other drivers know that your car is there. But drivers so easily and, unfortunately, so frequently forget how dangerous misused headlights can be. Their operation is efficient and the man behind the wheel doesn't realize that his failure to switch to the lower beam in passing or driving behind other traffic can turn those beneficial beacons into veritable instruments of destruction.

He also fails to realize that the destruction may come to him, involving serious property damage, injuries, death. The Canadian Highway Safety Conference reminds you that a slight pressure of the toe on the "dim" button can, with a minimum of effort, frequently mean the difference between a pleasant drive in the evening and a catastrophe that could disrupt the lives of a dozen people.

Safe driving is easy. It's no disgrace to be considerate — and live!

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

White Gifts

The congregation was invited during the service on Sunday morning, to bring White Gifts to Church with them next Sunday, December 9th. This will enable us to forward such articles as are of use to the Missions before Christmas.

Building

Mr. Harold Wells had a good report for the Church when on Sunday he told of progress and expectations. The new building is completely closed in — roof windows and the basement floor complete. This, Mr. Wells said has been achieved with a minimum of expense, at a cost, indeed, none could have hoped for. We are greatly indebted to the many men who for over 1,100 hours have voluntarily laboured on this work. Cash received so far has kept up with expenditure. Now, however, we must look to those who have pledged and others to supply more funds for further effort.

Christmas Party

On Friday, December 14th, the Sunday School Christmas Party will be held. As for years past, we look forward to meeting the parents with the children who are cordially invited to attend.

It is hoped that on Sunday next we may be able to make arrangements for a Young People's Union party to take place as soon as it may conveniently be fixed. All young people are asked to meet after the service at St. Paul's Sunday, December 9th.

Sorrows Crown of Thorns

There are many lines we may read in which sorrow is expressed most deeply, poignant lines — Milton's, for instance: "I waked, she fled, the day brought back my night." Yeats: "But I was young and foolish, and now am full of tears."

Shakespeare, of course, abounds with the poignant line: "Here I and sorrow sit, this is my throne, bid kings come bow to it."

But while we may read many a poignant line, we are apt to overlook the unwritten lines of sorrow spoken, yet not in sorrow. Here is one: A certain gentleman was describing his journeyings, he had been here and there — winter in France, or was it Florida. Summer in the north, some weeks meantime in Virginia, or was it Georgia? No matter! "But," asked his friend, "with all this gadding about, where does it get you?" "O," replied the traveller, "it sort of broadens the mind."

"Ugh," groaned his friend, "and what's the good of that?"

And God created the world, and looking upon it said: "It is good." Surely we owe it to ourselves to get acquainted with what God has done. And not only so — there is an old story of some travellers who came across some markings in the sand of the desert. No footprints were there, yet words certainly were there. This is what one read: "He who gathers will be sorry, and he who gathers will not will be sorry." One of the travellers filled his pocket with sand, the only thing there; the other laughed at him. At evening time, they removed their clothes and the one who had gathered sand, found now in his pocket pearls. Then he who had gathered was sorrow. Sorry that he had not gathered more. And the other was sorry that he had gathered nothing.

I started talking about Sorrow as expressed in the poet's lines. Here is a line or two from a book of poems written by a man I knew years ago, Archer Huntington, of New York City, millionaire, philosopher, poet, who has left to the nation many a fine collection and whose collection now in his 5th Avenue home will be the largest. Archer Huntington died recently, his widow sent me two books of his poems. The lines I have chosen are these:

"To you whose joyous smile across the haze
Of weariness, could flood
With light the days,
And fold the valley of our journeying,
Ever in the silvery dawn
of spring."

One tries at times to measure the depths of sorrow in the hearts of those who are left alone. Alone, good men and women are doomed to sorrow. The winter of life comes and snatches one of them away. And this is a sorrow I would have everyone share, for it is a sorrow that is to be turned into joy.

I think Huntington catches this truth in the verse following the one I have quoted:

"Welcome your soul, ship of my destiny!

With you in splendour past
all dreams desire,

I found a world lighted by love's true fire."

Or don't you like poetry?

Tall Piece

This may be relevant. I leave it to you.

A 106 year-old man in Massachusetts attributes his longevity to "not smoking, not drinking, and above all, to the fact that he has remained a bachelor all his life."

For myself, I feel that it will serve him right if he lives to be 206.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

Hungary, which is currently passing through one of the worst blood-baths in history, has been preparing itself spiritually for the struggle for freedom for many years. Christian people have been rising at 5.00 and 6.00 a.m. for group Bible Study before going out to their daily work in an increasingly hostile atmosphere.

Interest in Bible reading has resulted in increased interest in Bible distribution. The Hungarian Bible Council, now a member of the United Bible Societies, took over from the British and Foreign Bible Society seven years ago. The British and Foreign Bible Society had worked in the country since 1811.

Since the Hungarian Society assumed direction of Bible printing and distribution a yearly gift of 50 tons of Bible paper has been given by the British and Foreign Bible Society and the American Bible Society jointly. This year the quantity was increased to 82 tons — a contribution of about $35,000.00.

Since money to pay for this paper could not leave the country the Hungarian Bible Council this year offered to print Bibles in the Hungarian language for the contributing Societies for distribution in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and the U.S.A. So it is that Bibles printed on Communist presses there have been circulated in Canada during the past few months.

It is reported that few Protestant homes in Hungary are without a Bible.

Minding The Children

"Mind that Child" is the slogan of what is probably the broadest and most energetic child safety campaign ever attempted in Great Britain, launched last month.

The Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents points out that "the campaign is not directed at the child. It is a weapon to defend him and it rightly eschews blame-fixing. It has three special objectives: To ensure that parents adequately protect all children, especially the under-fives; to see that all child cyclists are adequately trained and to reduce the casualty lists to child passengers."

"Will the campaign have any effect?" they ask, and answer... "the statistics which reveal the extent of death and injury of our children on our roads show that it is appallingly high. But they also reveal the undeniable and encouraging fact that publicity and training in road sense have noticeably reduced the toll. Twenty-five years ago, five children were killed every day. Safety education deserves some credit for this figure being reduced to two a day."

"We all share the responsibility and shame for this appalling waste of child life. If your contribution helps to reduce child accidents, what greater reward can there be for your labour?"

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

SUICIDE NOTE

You may have read the item in the newspapers. The woman had written a note, asking forgiveness, then explaining: "I am useless to myself and everyone else!"

The report continues: "Friends and neighbours of the dead woman reported that she had been suffering spells of melancholy. She was a fine woman, very much respected in the neighbourhood..."

How many men and women make that terrible mistake? Perhaps it lies back of many tragedies. Too bad they had not read what Robert Louis Stevenson wrote.

"So long as we love, we serve," wrote the famous novelist. "So long as we are loved by others I would almost say we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend."

The tragedy of our generation is that we are transferring the emotions of love and friendship from our own hands into the hands of institutions or governments. We are trying to legislate virtues, rather than live them.

Not long ago a friend of mine lost his leg in an automobile accident. He told me that no less than eight persons had asked first of all: "Were you insured, John?"

When he told them that he was, they breathed sighs of relief, and one even said: "You're lucky... You'll get a pension!"

How materialistic we've become! Can insurance repay the loss of a leg? Can unemployment insurance replace the satisfaction of honest work? Can a cheque from any source replace neighbourliness, or man-to-man charity?

J. William Lloyd said: "There is but one virtue: to help human beings to be free and beautiful life; but one sin: to do them indifferent or cruel hurt; the love of humanity is the whole of morality. This is Goodness; this is Humanism; this is the Social Conscience."

Aren't we in danger of forgetting that these personal virtues cannot safely be turned over to politicians? Too many who prate about Social Conscience make it a matter of laws, of impersonal and far-off administration. Personal love and personal responsibility seem forgotten.

When this kind of "social conscience" predominates, when charity and love become matters of bookkeeping and law-making, the lonely will grow in numbers and the last despairing notes they write will have tragic truth in them!

GLORIA LAMBERT

Gloria Lambert, who now does the singing chores every week on the "Barris Beat" seen over the CBC Television network. Toronto entertainment columnist Alex Barris is the emcee.

The importance of newspaper deadlines, and the speed which is necessary in replying to a reporter's question were other rules of press relations outlined by the speaker.

The strong personal desire to serve was lauded by Mr. Needles as the vital element in service to the community. He said that participation in Chamber of Commerce work and other service functions in a community depended upon a high sense of personal responsibility and faith.

Encouraging people to offer their services for political office, and to become active in community service projects were important factors in community success.

"I believe we would reap a rich harvest if we further recognized the dignity of our employees by placing their promotions before the community and I believe we should demonstrate our interest in the community by advising it of events in our office, factory or store," said Mr. Needles.

What Others Say!

SO WHY WORRY!

(Peterborough Examiner)

Why worry about how old you are? If you have any luck at all you're not nearly so old now as you are going to be after a while.

LONG TALKERS

The dial telephone system is a modern miracle of communication, but it has bogged down miserably on the rural lines. All because too many women are using their telephones instead of making social calls. —Stanstead, Que. Journal.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SAVING

(The Rural Scene)

In modern industry it requires an investment of from $5,000 to $50,000 to create a job for one man.

Millions of dollars to be invested to start a sizable industry today; and billions have to be invested every year to keep the economy of the country growing and functioning.

All this money comes out of savings. It takes the savings of all the people in the country, plus the savings of many thousands in other countries to supply the capital that Canadian industry needs today.

Private individuals save and so do privately owned enterprises. They have to save to provide for their future needs; and those who fail to do so are sure to find themselves in trouble.

Governments never save and they rarely allow any government-owned enterprise to save. They find it easier and more popular, to raise the capital they need by borrowing and by taxation.

The income tax is a device by which government can cut itself in on the earnings of the people.

The succession duties tax is a device by which it can cut itself in on the savings of the few who manage to accumulate some capital during their lifetime.

Inflation of the currency is a device by which it can cut itself in on the savings of the patriotic citizens who buy its bonds, and of those who put their savings into life insurance, and of those who patronize the savings banks, even of those who hide their money under the mattress or bury it in the earth.

As it becomes more and more difficult to save, and as the value of people's savings is steadily drained away by inflation, industry finds it harder and harder to raise the capital it needs for expansion; and the people find it harder to put their savings in places where the government can't find it and take it from them.

When people find it no longer possible to protect their savings from the grasping hands of governments, they will cease to save altogether; they will turn prodigal and spend all they earn as soon as they get it, taking no thought for the morrow, and demanding that the government support them when they can't support themselves.

When that day comes where will private industry get the capital it needs to start new enterprises or to expand the old ones? It simply won't be able to get it, for there won't be any saving that dare show its head.

Only the government will be able to finance enterprises; and it will have to do it by taxation.

Then we will find ourselves in the hands of a totalitarian government on which we will be dependent for everything we need, and from which we will have to get approval of everything we do.

That will be socialism.

Slips, Gun Discharges

Kenneth Nicholson, 17, of Lake Township, was killed Saturday when a shotgun he was carrying accidentally discharged as he slipped on a piece of ice.

The youth, along with his uncle, Clayton Thompson, was tending traplines near Dickey's Lake. The blast hit him in the chest.

But It Worked

Belleville City Police Saturday charged a 17-year-old Corbyville youth with operating a motor vehicle in an unsound mechanical condition.

Police said Lewis Cummins' truck had no emergency brake, rear fenders, windshield wipers, horn, top, doors, headlights or insurance.

New Plant For Port Hope

A uranium metal production plant is to begin operation in Port Hope within 18 months. Mayor W. N. Moore told the nomination meeting Monday night that Eldorado Mining and Refining Ltd., had purchased the adjoining Matthews Conveyor factory and would redesign it for this purpose.

Uranium metal is used for the fabrication of reactor fuel rods. At present it is imported from the United States. The new plant is being designed with a capacity sufficient to meet Canada's present requirements and the anticipated needs for the next five years.

Announcement of the new operation came from Ottawa. Details were not available from Eldorado officials.

"50 YEARS OF PROGRESS"

THE HYDRO FAMILY ASSURES YOUR ELECTRICAL FUTURE

Medical science continues to advance well beyond the far-sighted concept of even the most optimistic predictions of a few years ago. Electricity makes much of that progress possible. Today, doctors use electricity in a variety of ways, from diagnosis to treatment. Specialized lighting and electrical aids to surgery make possible intricate operations undreamed of half a century ago. The X-ray, perhaps electricity's greatest single contribution to medicine, has itself assisted in saving thousands of lives.

Electricity's role in medicine is certain to become increasingly important and its potentialities greater as more electronic aids come into general use. It is another important way in which electricity, the silent co-worker in so many projects, is continually being used to help provide higher standards of health, living and prosperity for us all.

Ontario Hydro will continue to provide adequate supplies of power to meet the needs of our hospitals, homes, farms and industries.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

DAIRY FARMERS WILL SPEND $372,000 FOR ADVERTISING

Dairy Farmers of Canada, national producers' organization, will spend $372,000 for advertising and promotion of dairy foods in 1957. In making this decision directors from across Canada noted the effectiveness of the more than $2,000,000 which had been spent in advertising by dairy producers since 1950. Increased per capita consumption of dairy foods all along the line had been noted in 1955, the last period for which complete figures were available. Canadians ate an average of 1,037 pounds of dairy foods in the year.

Dairy Farmers officials point out that a budget of $372,000 is inadequate for the job of dairy foods promotion which needs to be done in Canada. As an example they cite the case of fluid milk consumption which in itself is low on a per capita basis. In a country where one third of the population is children the per capita consumption of three quarters of a pint of milk per person per day means that a great many people who should be doing so are getting no milk at all. Nutritionists are increasingly disturbed by the fact that older people do not get sufficient calcium which can be most easily and economically secured from milk and milk products.

Six month-long promotions will be run in 1957 by Dairy Farmers, as follows: February, concentrated products; March, butter; April, fluid milk; June, all dairy foods related to summer eating; October, cheese; November, butter. Only major media change will be in the size of ads used in daily newspapers. Size of ads will be sacrificed for frequency of appearance of the ad messages. In some papers frequency of appearance will be increased three times over the present rate.

CANADA'S FRUIT CROP ESTIMATES

The third estimate of Canada's fruit crops, made by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, indicates a production well below the exceptionally large crop of 1955.

The commercial apple crop, set at 11 million bushels is 39 per cent below that of 1955. British Columbia has well over a third of the total production with 4.4 million bushels. The Ontario crop is placed at 2,727 bushels; Quebec, 2,555, and Nova Scotia, 1,850.

The pear crop at 1.45 million bushels is down 4 per cent from last year with Ontario production estimated at 883,000 bushels and British Columbia, 526,000.

Plums and prunes at 599,000 bushels.

else are down 28 per cent, with Ontario accounting for 382,000 bushels and British Columbia for 202,000 bushels. The peach crop of 1.7 million bushels is 40 per cent below a year ago with Ontario production 1.3 million bushels and British Columbia 381,000. The grape crop at 80.8 million pounds, shows a reduction of 15 per cent with Ontario the major producing area.

ALFALFA AND CLOVER SEED PROSPECTS

The alfalfa seed crop in 1956 is far below average and may be one of the smallest on record. Stands were seriously damaged, particularly in Alberta and British Columbia, during the 1955-56 winter season and the crop in the Fort Vermilion area of Alberta was destroyed by early fall frosts. Low yields are expected also from Ontario and Manitoba.

Indications for the alsike clover seed crop are for an output one quarter of the 1955 production of 7,600,000 pounds clean seed.

The red clover seed crop is expected to be much smaller than in 1955. In Ontario yields of from ten to 35 per cent of the 1955 crop are indicated. In western Canada, where the single-cut type is grown, in place of the predominating double-cut type of eastern Canada, winter killing affected seed prospects. Production in Saskatchewan may be nearly as high as in 1955 but in Alberta, the chief producing province, the crop may not be much more than ten per cent of last year's 4,000,000 pounds.

Seed production prospects for sweet clover seed are quite good. In Manitoba production is estimated between five and eight million pounds (6,350,000 pounds in 1955). The Saskatchewan and Alberta crops may also equal last year's (4,000,000 pounds and 4,250,000 pounds respectively).

FRUIT TREES TO BE COUNTED

Designed for the purpose of estimating with some degree of accuracy the fruit resources of the province and provide a guide for marketing purposes, the Ontario Department of Agriculture is initiating a tree fruit census throughout the province.

Under the direction of the Extension Branch, Ontario fruit growers are being asked to make a return of the number of apple, peach, pear, plum and cherry trees on all of the fruit-growing farms in the province. In addition to the fruit trees, grape growers will be asked to report on the number of vines in their vineyards.

In addition to reporting the number of trees growers will be asked to report on the varieties under cultivation.

A similar count of trees and vines is taking place in all fruit growing sections of Canada.

W. B. Fox, Director of the Fruit and Vegetable Extension Service, said that the census would provide a guide as to the fruit resources of the province and assist in the marketing of the produce. Forms for the return are being distributed.

It is anticipated that the census will be completed by April.

OUTLOOK FOR FARM PRICES

The outlook for farm prices appears favourable in almost all categories, reports the Department of Agricultural Economics at the Ontario Agricultural College in its quarterly publication, "Ontario Farm Business."

The Department sees hog prices strong for the remainder of 1956, and likely to continue good right into late 1957, being very favourable about next June or July.

The prospects for beef cattle next spring are slightly better than last spring, although heavy marketings are in prospect for this fall, and seasonal price declines will occur. Prices in the summer of 1957 should be similar to prices last summer. The present large spread between top and common quality animals is likely to continue.

With dairy cow numbers in the United States being at their lowest for 20 years, exports of dairy cows to the U.S. are well above last year. Dairy cow prices are now higher than at any time since August 1954. The Department sees "limited improvements" in prices for next year.

The widespread prevalence of the potato blight across Canada will probably mean reluctance to store potatoes, with the result that prices of good quality potatoes should improve very considerably by next spring.

Although the U.S. production of soybeans is expected to be up one-quarter this year over 1955, the total supply of food fats is likely to be no greater than last year. Since meat prices will probably keep the price of beans down, the price of soybeans is not likely to be strong.

Price prospects for corn are "only fair," with the U.S. corn supply expected to be up 6 percent above the record supply last year, and 17 percent above the 1949-53 average.

Recently negotiated price increases appear likely to hold for the remainder of the season, and prices for apples will be strong, with normal advances as the season progresses.

O.A.C. Winter Short Courses

In order to provide educational opportunities for rural persons in Ontario who are unable to enrol as regular students at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Winter Short courses will be held at the College from January 1st to January 4th, 1957.

The following courses will be offered: Farm Business Management, Marketing and Co-operation, Agricultural Mechanics, Live Stock, and Soils and Land Use.

The courses will be as thorough and practical as time will permit. In the Soils and Land Use Course, for instance, such subjects as soil testing, crop rotation, proper land use, pasture management, tillage, and the role of all kinds of fertilizer will be discussed in detail. In all courses, farmers will be asked to bring their particular problems and observations to the discussions.

Details of the courses and the necessary application forms are obtainable from the County Agricultural Representative.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

Wildlife

Once again Nimrods throughout the country have hung up "Old Betsy" and another era has come to a close. No more rising before dawn to the greasy smell of bacon and eggs; no more trudging up the long hill to wait while the feet get cold and then numb, while the teeth chatter so loudly that it becomes necessary to remove them so as not to scare any deer which aren't there anyway. Then to have your heart skip several beats and leap out of place while your pulse pounds madly, (which makes you wonder if you aren't having a heart attack), as the baying of the hounds come closer. You settle down in time to see a big buck (the largest ever) step out; "Old Betsy" jams after the first shot which goes wild and that's the hunt for one year.

Now there is nothing left for the mighty hunter to do except complain about the grease, the weather, the near miss and the lost dogs. Of course he'll want to know all about the hunt and what the prospects are for next year. That's where our headache begins. Statistics must be gathered and we will be forever reminding hunters to submit their returns so as we can get our report out in time to meet the deadline set by Dr. W. J. K. Harkness and his staff of technical experts.

Actually the hunt this year was as good, if not better, than last year according to statistics gathered at the three check points in the Tweed District. All our Officers were busy throughout the hunt and on week-ends they met at either of the check points to gather pertinent data on the deer population and distribution according to the take.

A quick total of this check shows that out of 2,751 hunters, 28.8% were successful in bagging a deer.

Of the 783 deer checked, 313 or 40% were Bucks, 253 or 32% were Does and Fawns of both sexes, representing 28% of the bag with 217 being counted, a ratio of 1 Fawn to every 3.6 adults. The high percentage of Fawns taken during the hunt indicates a high reproduction of the deer population last year. This also means that the herd came through the winter in good condition and the spring was favourable to produce a healthy new crop which up to now have been doing well. We might expect from this that in next year's take there should be a large percentage of 1 1/2 year olds showing up. The conditions prevailing throughout the coming winter may still have a marked result on this year's class.

Results Energetic Bowling League

In Friday's meeting of the Ladies' Energetic Bowling League, Gladys Lancaster rolled the high single and triple with scores of 245 and 663, respectively.

The standing is as follows: Woodpeckers, 88 points; Hummingbirds, 31 points; Parrots, 26 points, and Canaries, 17 points.

"Mail Early" For Christmas Asks Postmaster

F. W. Houchin, local Postmaster, asks the co-operation of local and district business firms in withholding large mailing of calendars, catalogues and Third Class matter during the Christmas rush period. In former years valuable assistance has been afforded the Post Office in this way and if business firms will consent once again to postpone mailing large quantities of printed matter from December 10th, until after Christmas Day, it would be considerable help in handling the Christmas mail.

As in years past the local Post Office would also like to ask for the consideration of business firms and the public generally regarding the following items affecting the Christmas mail, and to assure them that by so doing they will greatly assist the staff in mail handling, and will help to ensure speedy delivery at all times and at Christmas in particular.

(1) Post your letters and greeting cards tied in bundles, with the stamps facing all one way, and local and outgoing mail separated if possible.

(2) All First Class Mail should be posted by 5.30 p.m. daily to ensure leaving on the night train.

Clear Road To Mail Boxes

(3) Patrons on the Rural Routes should have all letters and cards properly stamped before leaving in box for collection. Stamps may be ordered and purchased from mail couriers. Patrons are reminded that regulations call for a clear road into the mail box, which will permit the courier to service same without having to leave his vehicle.

(4) Place your return address in the upper left-hand corner of mail of any importance.

The Post Office has received a number of booklets on Postal Information, and businessmen may receive a copy on applying at the wicket.

Poppy Day Nets $362.72

Final returns from the recent Poppy Day sponsored by the Stirling Branch of the Canadian Legion, showed the net proceeds as $362.72. Of this amount the sale of wreaths amounted to $133, with the balance coming from the sale of poppies on the streets and throughout the local and district public schools.

The results compare favourably with those of last year and the members of the Legion are grateful for the generous patronage. Special thanks are due the teachers and pupils of the local and district public schools for their co-operation and assistance. It was greatly appreciated.

Pulp and paper exports are worth $925 million annually to Canada. They account for 33 per cent of the value of exports to the U.S. and for 24 per cent of all exports. Every Canadian has a stake in the maintenance of these markets.

Everything In Readiness For Big Santa Claus Parade On Saturday

Children To Assemble At Public School At 1.45 p.m. — Free Treats And Show

Santa, the bewhiskered and beloved old gentleman from the North Pole has just notified the Retail Section of the Stirling Chamber of Commerce that come snow or high water he will be paying his annual visit to Stirling this coming Saturday, December 16th. Estimated time of arrival on local streets is 2.00 p.m., provided the oats hold out, and it might be wise to point out that Santa has never been late yet.

Final preparations are complete for just about the best parade to be seen in these parts in many a year. With the co-operation of the Retail Section of the Stirling Chamber of Commerce, Santa has made plans for everyone from the youngest child right up to Grandpa and Grandma. He's looking for everyone to be on hand for the big parade that leaves the Public School at 2.00 p.m. sharp.

Stirling stores have prepared for the biggest crowd of shoppers ever and Santa having made a preliminary survey tells us that you can find just about everything you can imagine to solve those gift problems.

Santa enclosed a big list of directions for all those interested in the parade and we'll pass them right along to you:

(1) All children marching in the parade are to be at the Public School before 1.45 p.m.

(2) The parade leaves the Public School at 2.00 p.m. sharp.

(3) Floats will line up at the public parking lot opposite the United Church. All floats should be in line by 1.30 p.m.

(4) Parade will march along Emily St. to Front Street, east to James St., north to Mill St. and west on Mill St. Santa and his helpers will take up a position on Mill Street and all children will receive a mighty fine treat from their best friend.

(5) Santa makes a special request to all adults. Would they please wait until the parade has passed before rushing St. Nick. Santa claims that the wear and tear on everyone just isn't worth it because he will be in Stirling all afternoon and everyone will have ample opportunity to meet him. Little children can help too by taking their time to meet Santa. Let's make it a safe day as well as a happy day.

(6) The parade will reform at the corner of Mill and North Streets and will then proceed to the Stirling Theatre where free movies will delight the younger generation.

Due to limited seating capacity in the theatre, only children can be admitted to the free movies.

Santa is expecting to see all his friends, old and young alike, in Stirling this coming Saturday. So don't forget to make it a date.

Don Williams Is The Guest Speaker — Special Music Rendered By Full Choir

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was filled for the annual Christmas Carol and Candlelight Service sponsored by St. Andrew's Club on Sunday night at 7.30 o'clock.

Mrs. Harry Morrow presided at the console of the organ and the choir entered to the processional hymn "Hark The Herald Angels Sing." Mr. Oscar Clapper, President of St. Andrew's Club, welcomed the large congregation and led in the singing of a number of Christmas Carols.

Following the Scripture reading by Mr. Clapper and prayer by Rev. W. H. Walker, the choir rendered the anthem, "There Were Shepherds," with Mrs. Roy Eggleston singing the solo parts.

Miss Rika Brockema and Jan de Vries favoured with two accordion selections and after the singing of the "First Nowell," Misses Heather Rodgers, Carol Ray, Linda Morrow, Sally Fox and Jean McGee rendered, "Softly The Night Is Sleeping."

Rev. W. H. V. Walker introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Don Williams, of town, who delivered a most appropriate address on the subject, "Where Is Christ In Your Christmas?" Miss Rika Brockema and Jan de Vries were heard in two more accordion selections and Messrs. Wm. Reynolds and Roy Eggleston rendered a vocal duet, "O Night of Peace."

The hymn, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," was sung as a recession. The musical numbers were well rendered and the benediction brought to a close a very impressive service.

Hostess To Stirling W.I. Christmas Meeting

The December meeting of the Stirling Women's Institute was held Wednesday afternoon, the 5th, at the home of Mrs. W. C. West. Mrs. E. Foster, President of the Society, occupied the chair. A number of gifts were handed in for the Salvation Army's Christmas baskets.

Mrs. McMurray outlined the correspondence including a letter from Miss H. McClure, re W.I. badges, etc. A "thank you" card was received from Mrs. W. H. Cooke for remembering her while ill.

Mrs. W. C. West and Mrs. E. Foster were appointed as a committee to see about replenishing the dishes in the Community Hall kitchen. Remembering the sick and shut-ins was discussed and a long list of names was listed.

On January 29th an Extension Service Course from the Department will be held in the Community Hall, with a pot luck dinner to complete the day. The Stirling Santa Claus Fund was remembered again this Christmas.

The sewing committee, Mrs. C. Wright and Mrs. E. Foster, will resume their sewing work for the winter months, with visitors at the meeting offering to help along this line.

Again the call for Salvation Army clothing has been well responded to. Bundle after bundle of clothing have come in not only from the Village, but from the surrounding country. It seems so nice to have generous-hearted people sharing their goods with other at this Christmas-time.

The usual prize of a piece of crystal, donated by Mrs. L. Rodgers, was won by Mrs. S. McMurray.

Christmas Programme

The programme was in the form of a Christmas party. All joined in the singing of Christmas carols. Special Christmas programmes were handed out. Mrs. Mabel Williams presided at the piano for the singing of the Christmas Hymns.

"The Royal Christmas," proved very interesting and was given by Mrs. E. Foster. In part: The Sandringham home is always the Royal Family's place with the greatest of the year celebration. The special preparation in scores of guest rooms, the Queen's great Christmas party is ready. Picture to yourself a crackling log fire, Christmas lights by the thousands aglow. The great mansion's front doors are flung wide as the gate-man signals the Carol singers on their way.

The local nursery man and the lady's maid lead the procession by playing the fiddles. Inside the drawing rooms the Queen and her family give them a glorious welcome and join in the singing of old familiar tunes. This is topped off with sandwiches and coffee with each receiving a generous donation, and so they depart with a new group of choristers appearing and receiving similar hospitality.

Christmas morning finds the Royal family at worship in the little stone church on the estate. The exchange of gifts are of the sensible nature, such as the wise Canadian family household would buy. During bazaar festivities the Queen and her household make several purchases.

To decorate this large residence, it takes nearly a ton of holly and mistletoe; six large (ceiling height) Christmas trees. All too soon the Christmas party is over on the 1,700 acre Sandringham farm.

This is Britain's Royal Family Christmas, the traditional fashion of good will to all men.

Along the lighter vein, Mrs. W. C. West, Mrs. S. McMurray and Mrs. Louis Rodgers, read several jokes, which added greatly to the Christmas spirit.

Demonstration

Mrs. Luella Bronson demonstrated the making of winter decorations, the utilizing of plastic tablecloths and a practical use for Christmas or everyday greeting cards.

Mrs. Blanche Reid gave a worthy topic on "Do To Others," relating the story of a New Canadian's will to spread sunshine to those in her midst. God bless women such as she, dividing her happiness with others. She challenged her listeners to try to do some little thing for someone each day, as there is always someone feeling miserable or lonely, and Christmas is one of the best times to start a crusade of kindness to others. A new world will open up to you by giving a helping hand to others. It is the golden rule. It is God's way by doing unto others as you would have them do to you.

The programme committee, Mrs. Luella Bronson and Mrs. W. C. West, put on three contests, with the following winners: Guessing number of contents, the hostess; by-words contest, Mrs. F. Bartlett and Mrs. Blanche Reid; Christmas word contest, Mrs. Mabel Williams and Mrs. L. Rodgers.

The Christmas party closed with the singing of "Silent Night" and the repeating of the Lord's Prayer.

A tasty lunch was served by the committee. The usual social chat was thoroughly enjoyed and fortunes were read. A hearty vote of thanks was extended on behalf of the members by Mrs. L. Rodgers for the enjoyable Christmas party and tasty lunch topped off with Christmas cake, candies, nuts and grapes.

Upset Havelock Liquor Vote

The "wets" have succeeded in upsetting the beer vote in Havelock last April 11th, so another vote will have to be taken.

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

On Sunday morning when entering the church I was faced with two lovely Christmas trees — two of the best I have ever seen, wide and tall, they nearly reached to the ceiling. I understand that there are the gift of Harry Vandervoort and brought in by George Carlisle and Grant Richardson.

White Gifts

When asked to bring their White Gifts to the front of the Church on Sunday, it seemed that the whole congregation rose and came forward. A wonderful pile of beautifully wrapped parcels, and a pile of envelopes carrying cash gifts. Most of this giving will find its way to Toronto, probably to help the Hungarian visitors now there.

Scripture's Christmas

The Scripture's Group Party will be held on Wednesday, December 19th. Place to be arranged.

Candlelight Service

Candlelight Service with special music and singing with and by the Choir, Sunday evening, December 23rd, at 7.30.

The Reason Why

While we are going to wish all our friends a very Happy Christmas, and also wish for them lots of presents and plum pudding, we are not going to lose sight of the reason why we have a Christmas.

It was said of Jesus that "He should come and save His people from their sins."

That is the reason why. That, and nothing less than that, that, and nothing more than that is implied, to save us from our sins.

Well, certainly we need a saviour. You need one and I. We need to be saved from the many things that will otherwise destroy us. Not merely those evils walking the world today, clear for all to see; the evils of communism, greed, illwill, bitterness, etc.; but also from the evils of drink, lust, hate, temper and lots of other ugly things. Do not forget the reason for Christmas. Don't bring your children up to think of it as about the best holiday in the year, since they get all the presents, but let them know that Jesus came to save them. Think it over, and then look again at your newspaper and what is happening in the world; also in your own streets, and perhaps you will among other things be a bit graver at Christmas time. Merry, I trust, as well.

All Fads And Fun

One has described this age as an age of criticism and mechanism. We love to take things to pieces, we also love to criticize. But how cynical an age it is. Every day some cherished illusion is brought low, crumbles, falls to the ground. I am reminded of this when reading an English report. It tells us that we were taught that carrots are good for us. Now comes a bright soul and tells us that this is all baloney. Nonsense. Then again, we have been told to put our faith in vitamins. Now an expert, and he is that, tells us that this also is tripe. Nothing to it. Just eat well. Parents are the next on the list. Parents are persuaded to think a lot of their child's psychology, and as a result, most mothers are suffering from a nervous breakdown or worse still, an anxiety neurosis.

Think of how you were taught such things as this — "Early to bed, early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." How I wish they had left that last word out of it. I could have gone for the first part quite heartily. But there it is. Also, you were taught that you just can't be healthy in a stuffy room. You must eat regular meals and you must keep the windows open.

Again — what rot! What utter bilge!

Everyone knows that among the healthiest people in the world are those who live in slums. Open windows? Have their houses any windows? Stuffy rooms, well, just about six persons to a room. Vitamins? They would not know what you mean. Psychology — "Nuts to them."

It is not a fact that youngsters from the slums have a something, and it isn't in their hair, many a college trained boy and girl has not got? Isn't it also a fact that for some reason or other, the majority of them make out really well, or is that only in the U.S.A.?

Perhaps it is that those children who are left pretty much to themselves, come up through the university of the street, never had a "Ma" to stick vitamins into them, or study psychology about them are better off than those from our "better homes."

Anyway, they are tougher, healthier, more self-reliant, and get by with a good deal of success. If you broaden the scope to include all the children who have had to make their own way in the world, came from homes below the secure income bracket, you will find that the children from what we please to call "good homes" are for some reason handicapped, and are left a very long way behind.

Maybe it is because mother and dad does the worrying for them, and bring them up on the idea you can buy whatever you want.

Tail Piece

The agent was selling an encyclopedia, or at least that's what he thought. "Now that your boy is going to school, it will be a great help to him. Save him hours in fact." "Nuttin doing," replied the father. "Let him walk, same as I did."

J. E. O'Donnell Oldest Pensioner

(Sudbury Star)

More than 1,200 members of the Inco Quarter Century Club, many of whom are pensioners, sat down to a sumptuous dinner in Sudbury Arena, and heard words of optimism about the nickel industry from President Henry S. Wingate. It was the largest dinner yet catered by the 150 women of St. Andrew's United Church and their assistants.

Perhaps the oldest pensioner on the Inco roll is John O'Donnell, Stirling, for whom O'Donnell roast yard, built in 1916 was named, and who retired in 1922. He had 25 years service when retired and 34 years since, which is a record, too.

Mrs. S. McIntosh Hostess To River Valley W.I.

The home of Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh presented a very Christmassy appearance on Thursday, December 6th, when twenty-three members, two visitors and a bevy of children, gathered for the Christmas Party of River Valley Women's Institute. The children's gifts were placed under a lighted tree and the adult gifts in decorated containers.

Mrs. Roy Bush presided and opened with the singing of "Silent Night" and The Lord's Prayer in unison. She also gave a brief Christmas message. Mrs. Harry Morrow officiated at the piano.

Following the Secretary's report, several messages of thanks were received. The Secretary, Mrs. Thomas Hanna, tendered her resignation, and the Assistant Secretary, Mrs. J. R. Donohoe was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. Ed. Heasman reported $22.00 from three November euchre parties. The coffee and prizes were all donated. A vote of thanks was tendered the entertainment conveners for November. Miss Marion Carlisle gave a report of the disposal of the November donation of food products. The President read a poem, "It is good to be remembered."

The Link Institute in England forwarded six pounds of chocolates from a local industry at Abbot's Leigh, as a special gift to the members of the River Valley Women's Institute. The Friendship Secretary, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, equally divided them into 52 parcels and these were distributed in response to roll call. The absent members will each receive their gift. The chocolates gave the Christmas meeting an extra air of festivity.

Programme

Mrs. Don Donohoe presided over the programme and interspersed it with a number Christmas Carols. She also read a story which stressed "A Gift To Him." Mrs. Ed. Heasman read a poem, "The First Christmas Eve." Mrs. Don McIntosh sang, "Jolly Old Saint Nicholas." Mrs. Vernon Harry read, "What Does The Day Mean To You?" Bobby McIntosh, Jean Donohoe, Jane Bush and Connie Donohoe, each gave a short number. The programme closed with "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Exchange of Gifts

The children then drew their wrapped parcels from underneath the tree. The adults received theirs through a "Musical Pie" arrangement.

Mrs. J. L. Donohoe voiced thanks for hospitality, programme, chocolates from England and refreshments.

The hostess and lunch committee served a Christmas menu, complete with jellies, homemade candy, grapes and nuts. The group enjoyed a delightful half hour and despite the dense fog all arrived home safely.

The remainder of the evening was spent cutting out crinolins or slips, during which Miss Thibau-deau gave another demonstration on different types of seams.

A social half hour was spent after the meeting.

A brother, Arthur and a sister, Mrs. William (Clara) Sloggett, Toronto, are both deceased. His wife, the former Annette McMullen, predeceased him by three years.

The funeral took place from Bennett's Funeral Parlour, Campbellford, at 1:45 p.m. on Saturday, to Wellman's United Church for service at 2:30 p.m. Rev. W. G. Fletcher, minister of Rawdon Circuit, brought a comforting message to the bereaved family. OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

The term "public ownership" begins to worry me. I agree there are some community activities which are legitimate functions of governments; but I'm afraid that the few legitimate ones are used as an excuse to make "public ownership" a popular term. In reality, it would not take very much more "public ownership" to create a socialist state in Canada.

Socialism, as preached by politicians, I consider to be immoral. Sincere as socialist advocates may be, and as honest and righteous as they no doubt are as individuals, their overall concept seems to involve a sort of legalized thievery.

In England, I see that the Socialist Party now proposes, if it regains power, to expropriate all rent-controlled houses and flats and take them into public ownership. They propose that in most cases local "authorities" will become the largest and in some cases possibly the only landlords. Anyone interested in this socialist proposal may read it in "Houses of the Future," their own pamphlet.

How innocuous that phrase "take into public ownership" can be made to appear! Used often enough, it begins to sound respectable. In reality, it means that some six million privately-owned homes will be expropriated. One wonders whether the term "expropriated" will not some day become a euphemism to replace "stolen." Public ownership began sensibly enough, when it was generally agreed that certain activities such as delivering the mail, could be handled most efficiently by the state. In later years however, the idea has been used as a sort of Robin Hood method of stealing from the rich to give to the poor. A more modern concept seems to be that it is a useful thing to steal from everyone and give to everyone — rich or poor.

Perhaps there is some truth in the idea that such activity can make a government popular. If I can secretly pick your pocket, and then openly present you with half the loot (without you realizing where the loot came from in the beginning), you are likely to think me a fine fellow. If I can steal from 35 men and give to 50 men, I can probably be sure of a majority to support me.

Nevertheless, popular as I might become, I would still find it difficult to explain to my children that it is bad to steal from Neighbor Jones, who is a poor man, but quite all right to steal from Neighbor Brown, who has a fortune.

I will, therefore, continue to be suspicious of the term "public ownership," and hope that other Canadians will feel the same way. I'm not fond of landlords, but I'd prefer to deal with a private one who built the home than with a "public" one who had seized it.

MAMA PLOUFFE

Mama Plouffe and her lovely brood are back once again for another season of entertainment on CBC television. Young and old alike get a big bang out of the happenings of this sometimes not-so-typical French-Canadian family.

able houses were being transported on flatcars. A new railroad station was built, with a capacity of 10 persons standing, or sitting on a bench. There was a telephone for use by the trainmen, to perform their own dispatching of trains through the Sudbury office.

"A post office was established in the general store. Its name was officially 'O'Donnell,' called after one of the company's oldest employees, John O'Donnell (who retired in 1922) now living at Stirling, Ont., in his 91st year, the second oldest pensioner on the nickel company's retired list.

"About 400 men were at work preparing a large acreage through which a track network was to mark off beds for the purpose of piling cordwood, then green ore from the mines to be thoroughly roasted before going to the smelter at Copper Cliff. Strange to say, the people who lived and worked up there did not succumb to the ensuing fumes which arose from those beds, but needed less medical attention than most other communities of its size.

Two Sides To Every Story

Anything that is unusual or different is "News." When a dog bites a man, for example, that's very commonplace. But if a man bites a dog, that's different. It's "news." Newspapers want the facts about anything that is unusual, different or newsworthy in your hospital. Yet, the purpose of the hospital is to serve the sick and the injured. The patient comes first, always. Until this purpose is accomplished nothing should matter to hospital personnel regardless of how big a headline a particular story may make!

The News Room Side

Some hospitals always refer an inquiring reporter, photographer, or newscaster to the physician attending the patient concerned. This is most unsatisfactory. The doctor is frequently in the emergency ward and cannot be reached; the doctor is reluctant, in most cases, to divulge information. The press and radio would like the name of the attending physician only in the event they might require information in addition to that provided by the hospital.

The Hospital Side

The emergency ward is not the proper place to seek facts when lives are at stake. In cases of accident press and radio personnel should never telephone or contact the emergency department. They should try not to be annoyed if the hospital superintendent or administrator seldom "dips them off" to a news story. News is probably the last thing hospital personnel think about during accident or emergency cases. Furthermore, the use of good common sense in writing news for publication and for broadcast, as well as in captions, will help to mould a still better relationship between hospitals and news media.

Public-Spirited Men Unite To Bring Industry To Campbellford

(Campbellford Herald)

When the combined industrial committees of the Campbellford Town Council and the Chamber of Commerce decided last year to get an industry for the town, they knew they were up against stiff competition from other municipalities. After several leads failed, they sat down and took stock of the situation and decided to try a new approach.

Finally a "live lead" was followed up and the interested parties were brought to Campbellford for the purpose of picking out an industrial site. They were shown several sites, and selected one with a railway siding running through the centre of it. Council negotiated with the CNR to have the siding moved, but found it to be a costly affair. A new site was chosen by the industry, but this was outside the corporation. "We can get it for you," the industry was told, and soon, two public spirited men had purchased the land on the southern boundary of the town, and held it for the town. Later it was annexed, and now belongs to the corporation.

"Next," the industrialists said, "we need a building with nine or ten thousand square feet of floor space." A meeting of all business men in the town was called on a Sunday afternoon during the summer and 50 persons put up $500 each and formed a holding company. They engaged a contractor to erect a one-storey factory building with 10,000 square feet of floor space. The building has now been erected and the industry is ready to move in. They put up a payment on the building, and the stockholders hold the mortgage. The building was constructed with the idea of expanding in later years.

Ready in New Year

Production is expected to start early in the New Year. The firm, Simkin Brothers, lost their factory by fire in Bowmanville. They build boats and small cabinets, in two separate departments. They apparently have a ready market for their products and are reported at present to have a backlog of orders awaiting production.

The plant will be in full production in the spring. Fred T. Fry, of Campbellford, was the contractor. The building is now ready for occupancy, with only a few finishing touches to be added, and workmen expect to be finished next week.

The firm will employ about 35 men, and additional men will be hired as production increases.

The 50 businessmen who contributed the money for the building are now considering looking for another industry for which to build a second factory. They will use the money from the mortgage on the first building, as the firm retires the mortgage.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

For the second time in its history the United States has pictured the Bible on a postage stamp.

Issued on Labour Day, 1956, as a special commemorative stamp, it depicts the laborer's appreciation of the Bible.

The design for the stamp was taken from a mural in the new AFL-CIO headquarters building in Washington, D.C. This giant mosaic mural fifty-one feet high and seventeen feet wide pictures a worker with a pick, hammer and hoe over his shoulder, with an arm about his wife. She is seated and is reading to their young son from what the artist's title describes as "The Book of Life."

A spokesman for George Meany, President of the AFL-CIO said: "To us 'The Book of Life' can mean nothing other than the Bible. The mural shows the Bible to be the one sure and certain guide we have in life."

The only other such stamp issued in the U.S.A. in 1939, shows Washington taking the presidential oath with his hand on the Bible.

Recently Brazil used a Bible Society poster on a postage stamp. The British and Foreign Bible Society co-operates closely with the national Bible Society there.

HOG PRODUCERS' ASSOC. INTENDS TO MAKE HOUSE-CLEANING OF HOG MARKETING PRACTICES

A thorough house-cleaning and revamping of marketing practices in Ontario's hog industry is the prime object of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, Charles McInnis, President told the annual meeting of the Grey County Hog Producers' Association recently.

"As a result of considerable house-cleaning and revamping accomplished by us to date in the hog industry," Mr. McInnis said that "thousands of extra dollars are going into producer pockets." He said that price, and only price, is becoming the single factor that determines what packer shall get Ontario hogs.

Mr. McInnis said that before hog producers became interested in marketing practices, only about 5 per cent of Ontario hogs were being sold on open markets under competitive bidding. The other 95 per cent were delivered direct to packers, plants, with transporters being paid incentive-bonuses by packers to do so. Open-market deliveries have now been increased to 20 per cent, he said, and this figure will be further increased.

"Our new marketing practices," Mr. McInnis said, "have played a major role in strengthening current hog prices, and in adding substantially to the income of hog producers." "These higher prices were achieved," he said "despite the fact that hog marketing for Ontario and for Canada will be higher in 1956 compared with 1955."

Mr. McInnis said that a vigorous campaign to complete the revamping of hog marketing practices in Ontario will be in full swing during the first months of 1957. Already some five counties are now involved in this campaign to move hogs onto the open market.

The hog president predicted that despite under the table payments amounting in some instances to as much as $2.60 per hog; despite a non-co-operative attitude on the part of some large packers and some shippers; and despite increasing evidence of undesirable pressures on government, the hog association intends to make a thorough and complete house-cleaning of hog marketing practices in Ontario.

CANADIAN HOLSTEIN IS CHAMPION OF COLOMBIA

A Holstein cow bred by the Estate of J. B. Carmichael, Ilderton, Ontario, has been acclaimed as the Champion Milk Producer of Colombia. She is Medway Velbar Princess and her production for a year on twice-a-day milking in the mature class was 26,057 pounds of milk.

This is the equivalent of 10,423 quarts.

Princess has been classified Excellent, the highest rating attainable for type. She is owned by Samuel Williamson & Sons, of Innesque Farm, Bogota, Colombia.

FROZEN FOOD AND BETTER NUTRITION

From a nutritional standpoint, frozen foods are the equivalent of fresh foods. In some instances they may rate higher in nutritive value than fresh produce purchased at the local market. However, this is true, according to A. W. Moyle, Fruit and Vegetable Processing Laboratory Experimental Farm, only if the products have been properly handled. This means harvesting at the right stage of maturity, followed by proper processing techniques and proper storage of the finished product.

It has been established that the temperature at which foods are kept is an important factor in controlling the rate of loss of certain vitamins. For example, within a 24-hour period some vegetables if left standing at room temperature will lose as much as half their vitamin C content. At refrigeration temperature of 32 to 30 degrees F. the loss is a fraction of this amount; while at zero F. the loss is practically negligible. This applies particularly to leafy vegetables and snap beans. Root crops such as beets, carrots, parsnips, rutabagas, and potatoes, also lose vitamin C even in cool storage, but the rate of loss is relatively slow.

Important studies regarding the freezing of foods and their nutritive value have been carried out for many years. Research has indicated many valuable facts about the merit of these foods and their important role in providing a balanced diet. Food preservation by freezing has been termed one of the great discoveries of history. Properly frozen foods make available the highest possible dietary standard at an economical level in all seasons. Their appeal is universal because they taste and look so very much like freshly harvested foods.

PLACEMENT OF OUTSIDE HOUSEHOLD THERMOMETERS

Why the difference in temperature registered by outside household thermometers? Next-door neighbours often find their thermometers differ by five degrees or more. Are the thermometers at fault or does the cause lie elsewhere?

Trials at the Experimental Farm during winter nights have shown several degree differences between the readings of accurate thermometers set only a few paces apart. Dr. A. C. Carder reports that one thermometer was placed in a louvered box, technically known as a Stevenson screen; another on a north wall of an insulated building. Both were four feet above ground level. Although these thermometers were known to vary less than a degree under identical conditions they came within this accuracy only 35 per cent of the nights when exposed as described. On 45 per cent of the nights they showed a difference of two degrees or more; on 21 per cent of three degrees or more and on 3 per cent a difference of over five degrees. The greatest difference was 7 degrees F. and occurred on a calm, clear night.

The explanation for these differences is to be found in the phenomenon of radiation. The loss of heat by the mercury or spirit in the bulb of a thermometer to colder objects within line of sight may, under certain conditions, be considerable. The reverse is also true and the recording liquid will take on heat radiated from warmer objects. These objects need not be close at hand. Also, on clear nights a thermometer openly exposed to the sky will lose heat by radiation and so register much colder than a thermometer in a shelter. Readings from such an openly exposed thermometer may be representative of the temperature of short vegetation on the ground but will not correctly indicate the temperature of the higher air surrounding animals.

A householder cannot be expected to keep his thermometer in a louvered box. However, exposed thermometers will give reasonably accurate performance if certain precautions are taken. Never face a thermometer directly towards the window of a warm room nor towards an expanse of sky. The former location will cause it to register high, the latter low. The instrument is best suspended an inch or two from the north wall which itself faces a background of trees or other buildings.

Farmer Claims Prices Lower Than In '30's

By Eldon Stonehouse
Globe and Mail Farm Reporter
Clifford E. McFaul, of Hillier, is a farmer who takes reports of agricultural prosperity with a grain of salt — a large grain of salt to be exact.

Mr. McFaul, who is involved in the poultry business, maintains conditions in agriculture, couldn't be much worse. He is unhappy about prices for eggs and poultry.

To illustrate his claims Mr. McFaul has sent some shipping bills covering sales of eggs and poultry. The prices, according to him, are depression prices. Some, he claims, are lower than during the '30's.

This year many farmers have refrained from singing the particular brand of the blues often associated with agriculture, but at the same time the shouts of joy have been rather subdued. Therefore, a moment for the price quotations of Clifford McFaul:

Mr. McFaul's bills show he received 34 cents for his grade A large eggs a few weeks ago (when the bills were dated) and 28 cents for grade A medium. This is not an impressive return, and is fairly far removed from prices in most city supermarkets.

For his grade A small eggs he received 26 cents a dozen, and for B's 28 cents. For grade C eggs and cracks he got 26 cents.

It takes a good hen to produce six eggs per week, which means two dozen per month. At 34 cents per dozen, which is assuming all the eggs are top grade, a hen can bring in 68 cents per month. But hens eat a lot.

Even in the dead and dressed state they are not bringing in large sums, according to Mr. McFaul, who has also sent along some bills covering sales of poultry.

According to him, Leghorn hens he sold brought about 15 cents a pound, or a little better than 47 cents a hen.

He apparently did little better on the heavier breeds, for while they tipped the scale at a better average, the per-pound payments showed no improvement and the returns came to about $1.04 per hen. In other words, for 795 hens he got about $832.15.

These, according to Mr. McFaul, are depression prices, and not many farmers will make money from poultry this year.

Signals Help Others And You

It's difficult for the average person to realize that thousands of dollars in damaged property, months of grief and pain from injuries, too frequently the finality of death, have already resulted from the mistaken belief that direction signals — either hand-given or mechanical — on an automobile are embarrassing concessions to the comfort of everybody but the person supposed to use them. The motorist who rages when the driver ahead makes a turn without signalling is so often the same motorist who refuses to give the man behind the benefit of a signal. Let him, he thinks, guess. Or maybe it's just a little too much effort to run the window down and stick out an arm, or to flick the little lever on the steering column.

This driver seldom remembers or believes that failure to signal a turn or other movement by hand or flicker-light can send a truck or car crashing into him from the rear. And so often it is the approaching vehicle in back, advancing at a considerable speed, that could be amply warned by so little effort.

The Canadian Highway Safety Conference reminds you that it's not a nice feeling to see a big black shape zooming at you from the side, seconds before screaming tires and screaming voices prelude a grinding crash, a shower of splintered glass, and a writhing sea of twisted metal with you in the middle.

What Others Say!

GENERAL APATHY

(Brockville Recorder and Times)
An almost province-wide public apathy toward municipal elections is something which should give the people of Ontario food for serious thought. The root of all government lies right at the municipal level.

DOES IT MAKE SENSE?

(Dutton Advance)
Just when many people thought prices were becoming stabilized, the cost of living has taken another shot upwards.

Within the past month or so, milk, hair cuts, bread and several other items have increased. As a result of the steel strike last summer, new cars will cost more along with other products in which steel plays a prominent part.

The outcome of these increases likely will be that labor will demand more money with which to buy such goods. And if the employer pays more to labor then he in turn must make another increase in the cost of goods to cover the cost of increased wages.

Silly, isn't it!

HOW TO FIND HAPPINESS

If you are in search of happiness maybe these rules suggested by Alice Freeman Palmer, may bring the "Bluebird of Happiness" right to your own doorstep. Here they are:

1. Learn something useful every day — a great hymn, a lovely poem, a Bible verse. Nourishment for life comes from enduring words.

2. See something beautiful every day in the world. There is more beauty in the world than ugliness, if our eyes become trained to see it. One day last summer I stopped to gather some roadside flowers, which many people had passed as common weeds. A young girl in the car remarked, "I never saw anything beautiful in them before."

3. Do something helpful every day. Opportunities for kind words and deeds are all about us; our lives must be trained to accept them.

Then to top these rules she concluded by saying: "There is a road to happiness which starts from the place where you are. In rich, spiritual nourishment, in eyes opened to the beauty of ordinary experiences, in helpful service to others, we find happiness."

Just ten shopping days before Christmas. Never were local stores more attractive. Money spent at home circulates locally and helps build the community.

Native of Rawdon Dies In Vancouver

A pioneer Alberta oilman, Major James Robert Lowery, 73, of Vancouver, and native of Rawdon Township, died Saturday of a heart attack while attending the East-West all-star football game in that city.

Born at Wellman's Corners, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lowery, he lived his early life in Frankford, but went West as a young man. He had been associated with the Home Oil Company since 1925, was president of the company, retiring as chairman of the board in 1953.

He attended public school at Frankford and went to high school at Trenton and Stirling before going West to Lloydminster where he commenced work as a clerk in a hardware store. He came back East to attend Queen's University, Kingston, where he received his B.A. degree, returning West following graduation.

Prior to going West he had taught school at Maynooth for two years.

At the outset of World War I he enlisted in the Canadian Army and saw service overseas with the 49th Battalion, being wounded at Vimy. He rose rapidly through the ranks and

Wellman's Women's Institute

The regular meeting of Wellman's Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Byron Seeley on Wednesday, November 21st.

The President opened the meeting with everyone repeating the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

It was decided to give a donation to the Community Chest. Mrs. Charles Dunham gave the current events and the roll call, "Customs of another country," was answered.

Mrs. Ken Tompkins favoured with a solo, "Bluebird On Your Window-sill."

Mrs. Thomas Hinds introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Everett Bulten. Mrs. Bulten, a native of Holland, gave a very interesting talk of the country, its customs and ways of living. She also showed pictures taken in Holland.

On behalf of the Institute, Mrs. Chas. Dunham presented Mrs. Bulten with a gift in appreciation of her talk.

Mrs. Frederick Beckett sang, "Smile Awhile," which was followed by the motto, "Scorn not the way another lives for each must accept what nature gives," presented by Mrs. John Carlisle. The Institute Creed, followed by the singing of "God Save The Queen," closed the meeting.

The hostess served a dainty lunch and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Observe Their Golden Wedding

On Wednesday, December 5th, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scott, Wright Street, Stirling, and near relatives, were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Scott, R.R. 3, Stirling, to a bountiful turkey dinner, in honour of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, made and trimmed by Mrs. Don Scott, was the centre of attraction.

On December 5th, 1906, the marriage ceremony performed by Rev. W. G. Clarke in the presence of sixty-five guests, took place at the bride's home at 12 o'clock noon. At 3.45 p.m. they were driven to the station by cab and pair of horses to board the train for Massena, N.Y., where they spent two weeks visiting relatives and touring places of interest such as the aluminum works, large milk condenser and the sulphur springs.

On returning to Stirling, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents at the west side of the Fair Grounds. The following April they went to live on the farm they bought two miles west on the town line. They lived there until November, 1945, when they moved to Stirling. Their son, Donald, after being in the RCAF for over five and a half years, took over the management of the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott have one son and one granddaughter, Sharon.

The Christmas Message

Future historians may very well refer to the past ten years as "The Unkind Years," for unkind they have certainly been. 1949 was the year in which some of us were released from the forces, it was the year of peace.
But what an uncertain peace! Since then we have had a war, a very cold war and the temperature has not noticeably risen. It would be very human for us to despair and since we are disillusioned, to become cynical.
We should, however, notice that even our cynicism is human, which means, that we despair about human nature.
It is just here that God steps in. We are right to despair of human nature, for human nature is evil left to itself,
it homes every kind of evil, strife, bitterness and ill-will.

But, in the coming of Jesus Christ,
God has touched human nature, and because of that, we are saved also from despair, for we know that from God comes our Salvation.

First, God touched human nature with a touch of understanding. The Chinese have a saying that "God Knows." But that is not the Christian faith. God could not know from the outside, as it were, God had to enter human life in order to understand it.
So Christmas answers the plea of the man who says: "God could not reach down to where I am. He cannot meet me in my situation." But this is wrong, the Christmas message is that God has reached down, and that God does understand my situation.

God also touched human nature with a touch that is sacred. When Christ was born, men were still drawing hard and fast lines between the sacred and the secular. The barriers between the courts of the Temple were symbolic of this way of thinking, as indeed it is to this day among some Christians. But again, that is not the Christian message. Christmas is the story of God coming-in between those very barriers which men had made, it is the Word being made flesh, of God touching with hands human and divine all the stuff of human life, straw and sawdust and shavings, so that a strange sense of the sacred falls upon life.

And God touched life with a touch that transforms. The story of Jesus is the story of the King with the golden touch. He touched the sick, the lame, the blind, they rose, walked, rejoiced. The sinful, and they found the grace of redemption.

And finally, he touched death and changed it forever.

River Valley W.M.A.

Mrs. Gerald Brooks was hostess to the River Valley Woman's Missionary Auxiliary on December 12th, with 12 members and 8 children present. The home was gayly decorated for the Christmas Season and the programme was prepared and presented by Mrs.
Roy Bush.

The true meaning of Christmas was explained with Carols and readings given at intervals. Mrs. John Kane gave a reading, "Christmas Tree Story." This was followed by the Scripture Lesson by Mrs. Ross Holland. The hymn, "The Light of the World," was sung, followed by prayer for those who have no Christmas, by Mrs. Stanley Irvén. The legend of the Christmas Rose was given by Mrs.
Glenn Bush.

Mrs. Jack Bush presented "The Christmas Story," to the children and the children placed their gifts (mite boxes) in the cradle with the Christ Child. All the children sang "Away in a Manger." This was followed by a Christmas Prayer by Mrs. Jack Bush. Mrs. Roy Bush closed the meeting with a meditation and the benediction.

All enjoyed a bountiful lunch. Mrs.
George Hensman thanked Mrs. Brooks for the use of her home. Mrs. Bush for the presentation of the programme and all who helped on the programme.

The December meeting of St. John's W.A. was held on Tuesday the 11th in the Parish Hall. After the singing of hymn 361, Rev. Secker opened the meeting with the Member's Litany and prayers, and then read excerpts from "Letters to Young Churches," written by J. B. Phillips. These are the New Testament Epistles paraphrased into vigorous contemporary English.

After the minutes and the roll call, Mrs. Earl Morrow gave the Treasurer's report and the President, Mrs. Melville Tanner, read a letter from Bishop Wilkinson, from Aneritsar, India, and then read the monthly Diocesan letter. Mrs. George Noble, Dorcas Secretary, read a letter from Norah E. Grant, stating the requirements for the annual shipment to the Gordon Indian Residential School in Punichy, Saskatchewan. As usual St. John's W.A. was in full agreement to fulfill all their Missionary obligations. The W.A. thankoffering will be taken at the January meeting. All members are requested to bring in their annual thankoffering envelopes at that time.

Mrs. Secker, with the aid of a large map in colour, took the second chapter of the study book, "East of Burma," and also gave an excellent interpretation of Buddhism.

Mrs. Leonard read a poem, "Putting in a Nail" and Mrs. Melville Tanner read a ballad, "Mike's Prayer." After an amusing contest the President closed the meeting.

Mrs. Earl Morrow thanked the hostesses, Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Leonard, for the programme and the delicious lunch they served after the meeting.

St. Paul's W.M.S. Christmas Meeting

The old, yet ever new story of "The First Christmas Eve" was colorfully portrayed by members of St. Paul's W.M.S. at the regular December meeting.

The pageant, directed by Mrs. A. Packman, showed the Angel, Mrs. W. Warren, visiting Mary, Mrs. W. Wilkins, who sang the magnificent. The story unfolds with Mrs. D. Duffin, as Martha; Mrs. R. Tucker, as Sapphira. The Shepherds were Mrs. S. Elliott, Mrs. J. B. Thompson, Mrs. M. Ayrhart, the Wise Men, Mrs. Ray Rose, Mrs. Wm. Brown, Mrs. J. Hough; King Herod, Mrs. E. Eggleton; Courtier, Mrs. E. Luery; Scribe, Mrs. R. Christie; Priest, Mrs. L. Pollock; Joseph, Mrs. P. Utman; the Littlest Angel, Connie Tucker. The story closed with the cast gathered around the manger singing "Alleluia, Praise Ye the Lord."

Mrs. Geo. Carlisle opened the regular part of the meeting with a poem, "The Continuing Christ." Mrs. V. Richardson read the story of the Wise Men from the second chapter of St. Matthew. Mrs. Carlisle gave the meditation, "The Christmas road leads to our Inn."

The worship service took the form of a candlelighting ceremony entitled "His Constant Lamp."

On the table at the front of the room, candles were arranged with one large raised candle as a symbol of the Light that is in Christ. As the leader, Mrs. Packman, lighted some of the smaller candles, she repeated, "In every land a constant lamp flames by His small and mighty camp." While we are lighting the candles to symbolize the presence of Christ in our midst, the churches of South East Asia are doing the same there at the Nativity Season.

Mrs. Brown lighted a candle for Burma; Mrs. Patterson, for Korea; Mrs. Hough, for New Guinea; Mrs. Eggleton, for Canada; Mrs. Luery, for Malaya; Mrs. Thompson, for Hong Kong. Mrs. W. Warren, soloist, sang "O Come All Ye Faithful." All joined in singing "Joy to the World" and "Infant Holy."

The members representing South East Asia, led in prayer, and Mrs. G. Carlisle pronounced the benediction. Mrs. Packman took charge of the study book period. We give common allegiance to our Lord Jesus Christ and unity is imperative in the younger churches. Literacy is one avenue of evangelism. Translated Bibles are needed and Dr. Lauback's method of teaching will help when Missionaries are unable to go where Bibles can.

Food is needed for many that do not get the bare necessities of life.

During the business period the secretaries were asked to send their reports to Mrs. D. Luery before Jan. 1st. The executive will meet at the home of Mrs. R. A. Patterson on the afternoon of January 3rd to plan next year's programme.

Slate of Officers

The nominating committee brought in the following slate of officers for the new year:

St. Andrew's W.M.S. At Mrs. H. Rollins'

The December meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. H. Rollins, with Mrs. R. H. Williams, Mrs. A. V. Greenley and Mrs. Roy Eggleton as assistants. The President, Mrs. Roy Eggleton, took charge of the devotional part of the meeting.

The service of worship from the Glad Tidings was followed. The Scripture Lesson in this part was taken by Mrs. Jas. Johnston.

The roll call was conducted by Mrs. Earl Fox and the word "peace" was the keyword.

The prayer from the Glad Tidings was given by Mrs. R. Eggleton. The offering was taken by Mrs. E. Cain. Officers installed.

The following list of officers was presented by the nominating committee and with a few words on steward-er.

ship by Rev. W. H. V. Walker, these officers became the new leaders for the coming year:

Honourary President, Mrs. Roy Eggleton; President, Mrs. E. Foster; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. A. O. Dalrymple; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. L. Munro; Secretary, Mrs. Earl Fox; Treasurer, Mrs. E. Cain; Supply Secretary, Mrs. L. Rodgers and Mrs. L. Daffoe; Welcome and Welfare, Mrs. Roy Eggleton; Assistant, Mrs. W. H. V. Walker; Glad Tidings, Mrs. Don Fargey; Library and Literature, Mrs. S. McIntosh; Assistant, Mrs. Don McIntosh; Mission Band Secretary, Mrs. James Johnston; Assistant, Mrs. Bert Cook; Press Secretary, Mrs. H. Rollins; Pianist, Mrs. V. Matthews; Assistant, Mrs. R. H. Williams; Home Helpers, Mrs. Harold McGee, Mrs. Geo. Sarles and Mrs. Edna Wright; Cradle Roll Secretary, Mrs. H. Thompson; Assistant, Mrs. W. H. V. Walker.

The hymn "While Shepherds watched their flocks by night," was sung with Mrs. Vernon Matthews at the piano. The editorial from the Glad Tidings was read by Mrs. Don Fargey.

A reading entitled, "The Hope of Christmas" was read by Mrs. E. Foster. Christmas is the symbol of hope. How vain it seems at times to believe that love and hope can triumph over all the evil power in the world. The Prince of Peace has come and with Him the faith that someday men will beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning hooks. What if the news in the headlines in the paper is bad, "Behold I bring you good tidings of great joy."

At this time a solo, "The Birthday of a King," by Mrs. Don Rodgers, transformed the atmosphere of the meeting into one of inner peace and joy. Mrs. Vernon Matthews was the accompanist.

A paper entitled, "Meet the Koreans," was read by Mrs. Blanche Reid. The Korean Church is alive, growing and constantly reaching out to new areas to plant yet another church.

An article from the Record was read by Mrs. W. H. V. Walker, "Prominent Nigerian Visit Canada."

The singing of a Christmas Carol and the benediction brought the meeting to a close.

To Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Wilson, of Belleville, will observe their golden wedding anniversary on Christmas Day. Mrs. Wilson is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bird, of Sidney Township, and Mr. Wilson, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Wilson, of Holloway.

They were married at the parsonage of Sidney Baptist Church on December 25th, 1906, and lived at Holloway for many years before coming to Stirling some fifteen years ago. Ten years are they moved to Belleville. They have three sons, Elwood, of Hoard's; Frank, of Belleville, and Leslie, of Ottawa. Mr. Wilson has been in poor health for the past three years.

Mrs. E. M. Thomson

On Tuesday night, December 11th, death came to Elizabeth Matilda McKeown, wife of the late Andrew Hay Thomson. Seven years ago she suffered a stroke from which she never fully recovered, and a few days before her death she became totally paralyzed. Though she has been confined to a wheel chair she was always cheerful and welcomed everyone who called on her. She died at her home, where she came as a bride 47 years ago.

She was the eldest daughter of the late William McKeown and Sarah Eastwood, and was born on the 12th Line on the farm now owned by her son Bill. She was in her 74th year. She leaves to mourn her loss, four sons and four daughters, William, 12th Line; Ross, Billings Bridge, Ottawa; Clarence, at home; Fred, at Campbellford; Mrs. Maude Runnalls, Stirling; Mrs. Murney (Hazel) Fleming, Oshawa; Mrs. Geordie (Jerrine) Sutherland, Stirling, and Mrs. Lloyd (Leafa) Anderson, Rylstone.

She is also survived by five brothers, Edgar McKeown, Bethel; Thomas H. and Fred, of Springbrook; Alfred, of Vancouver, B.C.; John S., of Cobourg; and three sisters, Mrs. Will (Susan) Morrow, Peterborough; Mrs. Willis (Maggie) Irwin, Rylstone, and Mrs. Harry (Kathleen) Walsh, Toronto. Her husband and one sister, Mrs. Victor (Edith) Irwin, predeceased her.

She was laid to rest beside her husband in Rylstone Cemetery, with memorial service in Rylstone United Church. Service at the graveside and in the church was conducted by Mr. Ray Fox, of Trenton and Rev. H. E. Beare, pastor of the church. Mrs. Thomson was a member of the Gospel Hall Assembly.

The pallbearers were six of her eldest nephews, Reg and Clarence McKeown, Gerald Fitchett, Garland Irwin, Grant Morrow and L. McKeown. The flower bearers were Glen and Eldon Anderson, Ronald Thomson, Fletcher Wildman, Ray Stewart, Wellington Althouse, Lesley Sweet, Don Fleming and Cyril and Tom McKeown.

Marsh Hill

(Too Late For Last Week)

Pine Grove Women's Institute held a successful pot luck supper and social evening last Wednesday.

Sorry to report Mrs. Roscoe Vandewater a patient in the Belleville General Hospital. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jeffrey, of the 4th of Sidney, were Saturday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. David Hollinger.

A number in our community have been confined to their homes with the flu.

Mission Band

The Christmas meeting of Marsh Hill Mission Band was held Friday night in the Marsh Hill School with fifteen members present.

The President, Marilyn Finkle, opened the meeting with a reading, "When Jesus Was Born," after which all sang "Away In A Manger" and Marilyn led in prayer.

The following Christmas program was presented: Piano duet, "Now Sing We All Merrily," by Linda Finkle and her mother, Mrs. Leslie Finkle; recitation, "Christmas Is Coming," by Carolyn Finkle; reading, "Christmas," by Carol Lindenfield; piano solo, "Jingle Bells," by Elizabeth Finkle; readings, "The Meaning of Christmas," by Gwenda Detlor, and "Christmas Night," by Harold Finkle; piano solo, "The First Nowell," by Marilyn Finkle.

Mrs. Detlor gave two chapters from the study book, "The Secret" and "The Christmas Party." After singing "Little Helpers For Jesus," all repeated the Lord's Prayer. At this time each member received a bag of candy.

Zion Sunday School Supper

The annual Sunday School Supper of Zion Church was held in Sentinel Hall on Friday and was attended by over a hundred. After the supper hour the teachers of the junior classes presented their scholars with prizes won for faithful attendance. These teachers were Mrs. Albert Tunny, Miss Violet Wright and Mrs. Fred Fry. Mrs. Douglas Ingram and Mrs. Don Kerr supplied for Mrs. Carl Linn who has been on the sick list. The Superintendent, Mr. Aymer Petherick, presented twelve certificates for perfect attendance.

The superintendent and Rev. G. Whitehorn, spoke briefly on the work of the Sunday School, which was followed by the showing of two reels of moving pictures by Rev. G. Whitehorn which were very interesting and appreciated by all.

Presentation

During the evening Mr. Fred Barnum was taken by surprise when called to the platform and on behalf of the Zion congregation presented with a beautiful Scripture plaque for his faithful services to the Zion choir for over half a century. A very appropriate address was read by Mrs. Bill Petherick and the presentation was made by Mr. Albert Petherick.

Mr. Barnum, although completely taken by surprise, thanked all for their lovely gift and also for the kindness shown him while leader of the choir. All joined in singing "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow."

It was decided to hold the January meeting on the 4th as the regular date was too near New Year's Day. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Chas. Stewart. A "Family Night" is being planned February.

Mrs. Spencer gave a brief outline of the highlights of the short course "Making a Good Officer," held recently under the auspices of Seymour East Institute.
